BOOZE STILL FLOWS IN TECHNICAL SAHARA

National Survey for The Lima News Strengthens Charge of Governor Pinchot of Dry Laxness

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Results of a national survey just completed for The Lima News lend support to charges by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, that enforcement of the federal prohibition amendment has failed and that the country is in the grip of a "whisky rebellion."

In a number of cities, considered of strategic and typical importance, trained investigators made searching inquiry and found:

THAT intoxicants, including beer, whisky and gin, can still be had for a price.
That in many instances, liquor of pre-Volstead strength is being sold openly over saloon bars.
That authorities directly charged with suppression of illicit li-

That deaths from moonshine concoctions are on the increase.
That liquor fleets still ply their trade off the Atlantic coast.
That vast quantities of wet goods continue to be smuggled in over the borders.

That there is a growing psychological trend to consider it cleverness to flaunt the 18th amendment.

That the present federal prohibition enforcement machine is utterly inadequate to bring about a universal respect for the Volstead enactment.

That home-brew distillers and manufacturers are to be found in most every community.

THE above enumerations were all contained by implication or direct indictment in Governor Pinchot's address before a mass meeting of the citizenship congress, held here recently under auspices of the Fed- (Continued on Page Fourteen.)

CONFERENCE DESIRED BY NEWARK

Committees Threshing Out Claims at Thursday Sessions

JUDGE ALLEN TALKS ON WAR

Advocates Treaties Declaring Combat to be Illegal

With the Ohio Welfare Conference in session here scheduled to close Friday noon, delegates are beginning to take an active interest in the selection of new officials, the naming of the time and place for the 1924 meeting and, most of all, the resolutions which are to be adopted.

Committees in charge of these three phases of the conference work met Thursday at 4 p. m. in Memorial Hall to frame the reports which they will present to the business session Friday.

Discussion among the delegates indicates that Columbus can have the 1924 convention if that city wants it, although Newark is said to have an invitation ready to extend to the convention. Sentiment among delegates is that some city with plenty of hotel accommodations should get the convention and many expressed the fear that Newark or a city of that size cannot care for next year's meeting.

ELECTION GOSSIP
There is also a strong sentiment for the election of H. R. Knight of Columbus for the presidency but the delegates have apparently not centered on any one person. Many would like to see Judge C. W. Hoffman of Cincinnati again permit the use of his name for the presidency. It is quite probable, say delegates, that E. J. Henry, the first vice president will be elevated to the presidency.

Members of the resolutions committee are keeping their plans quiet but it is known that a strong resolution dealing with the question of taking welfare work out of partisan politics will be given serious consideration. This was the keynote of the annual address of the president, Judge C. W. Hoffman of Cincinnati, and also of other speakers during the conference sessions. Sentiment among the delegates, as expressed in lobby discussions favored some declaration by the conference on this subject, it was learned Thursday.

DECIRES WAR
Demand that warfare as a legal means of settling international disputes be abolished and a declaration that neither the league of nations, an international court, an association of nations or any other agency could prevent war as long as war itself is considered legal, featured the address of Judge Florence Allen of the Ohio Supreme court before the Wednesday night session of the Ohio Welfare Conference at Memorial hall. She urged international treaties by the United States to make aggressive war an international crime.

And along with Judge Allen's demand that aggressive war be made an international crime, Owen R. Lovejoy of the National Child Labor Committee demanded that child labor be abolished, declaring that this country could never take a spiritual lead for the outlawry of war until it first took care of its own children.

SECOND MASS MEETING
The two addresses comprised the program of second general session of the conference and both were listened to by a large and appreciative audience.

Judge Allen began her address by declaring that "war must be annihilated or humanity cannot long survive" and then she said that it is impossible to abolish war until the nations make it illegal. "We were never able to check murder as long as there was no law making murder a crime," said she. "So with war, we must first make it a crime and attach penalties for commission of that crime. There is only one kind of war that is today a crime and that is the kind of war that our forefathers fought for American independence. All other forms of war are today recognized by all nations as legal. Talk at the

COLLEGE GETS FIRST PLEDGES

Bluffton School Campaign Away to Good Start With $24,500 In Gifts Offered at Dinner

INITIAL PLEDGES

College Faculty $23,500
Wm. F. Hoover 1,000

Inspired by pledges of $23,500 from the faculty members, a gift of $1,000 from William F. Hoover of Lima, and promise of $25,000 from citizens of Bluffton alone, 300 workers took the field Thursday in the campaign to procure $125,000 of the Bluffton campaign fund expansion fund for Bluffton college.

The campaign got under way following the final rally held Wednesday night at a supper in the Barr hotel, featured by announcement of the above mentioned gifts and inspirational addresses by the principal leaders in the campaign.

CAMPAIGN STARTS

Under supervision of H. O. Bentley, president of the Lima Board of Commerce and general chairman of the campaign, and A. F. Hoffmann, director, the workers are now making their appeal to citizens of Allen, Van Wert, Putnam and Hancock coes.

In announcing the pledge of $23,500 by the 28 faculty members it was pointed out that this pledge represents efforts entailing real sacrifice, inasmuch as not one of the faculty members receives a salary in excess of $2,000 a year, demonstrating their loyalty to Bluffton by remaining there despite their ability to command much larger salaries elsewhere.

Chairman Bentley pointed to the gift of Hoover, president of the Hoover-Bond Co. by expressing the hope that the section would produce enough similar gifts to insure a large over-subscription of the quota assigned to the district. The fact was brought out last night that 85 per cent of the college students reside in this section while but 15 per cent of the funds heretofore have been procured here.

$125,000 NEEDED

The campaign committee is asked to procure only $125,000 of the $1,250,000 campaign fund, procured by the Manufacturers of the country and a Cleveland effector to donate $100,000. The rest of the fund is scribbled elsewhere, this donation being stated, representing probably 20 per cent of the donor's estate.

Brief and inspirational talks were given by Chairman Bentley; Director Hoffmann; Dr. S. K. Mosman, president of the college; Mayor Harold Cunningham; Dr. O. S. Steiner, campaign; and D. W. Bixler, chairman of the Bluffton section.

Reports of the drive will be listed daily at a scoreboard at the courthouse.

The workers will assemble at a luncheon Friday at 11:45 at Hotel Argonne to make reports. These reports will be made daily.

DON'T FORGET TO REGISTER

New Voters Given Opportunity Friday and Saturday

Registration of voters for the November election in Lima will commence Friday in the regular precinct polling places.

Registration places will be open from 8 a. m. until 2 p. m. and from 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. Voters may register during the same hours Saturday.

Predictions made by J. M. Madigan chairman of the board of elections indicate that at least 300 voters will qualify to cast their ballots. Only new voters need register, as general registration will be held in 1924.

Voters who are out of the city on the two regular days will have a chance to get their names on the books by appearing before the board on Nov. 3 and 5.

Transfers from one precinct to another will be issued at the registration places on both Friday and Saturday.

Heaviest registration Friday and Saturday, according to predictions will be in the second and fourth wards.

SUSPECT IS TAKEN

Linked With Slaying of Woman at Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN—(United Press)—A suspect in the mysterious slaying of Mrs. Grace Dorsey, 67, in the kitchen in her home Monday, was arrested today by police when they learned the man had been seen near the Dorsey home.

The man, who denied knowledge of the murder, will be questioned by Acting Chief McNicholas and detectives.

Poison Liquor Common Here

Police Find Imported Goods, Very Scarce With Main Supply Limited to Jake and Extract

Bonded whiskey imported from Canada or Scotland is not common in Lima. Stuff on sale is of the poisonous variety. It consists of home distilled corn whiskey, colored rye liquor and synthetic gin.

Jamaica ginger, lemon extract also-rub and alcohol are choice drinks of habitual after the "kick" instead of the pleasure.

Police Chief Lanker believes the city is fairly thoroughly cleaned as far as "bootlegging" is concerned.

Hip pocket peddlers and a very few "blind tigers" operate here, selling the home distilled brand of poisonous beverages.

Grocery stores and soft drink cafes dish out the alcoholic drinks such as Jamaica Ginger and lemon extract, according to the chief, whose drive against them has tightly clamped down the lid.

Liquor runners bringing bonded whiskey into Lima are very few, is Lanker's view. While he admits there might be violators their activities are not on a scale to cause alarm.

FALL FROM TREE ENDANGERS LIFE

School Boy, 15, Badly Injured During Recess Play

Russell Loesch, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Loesch, of Bath-t, suffered probable fatal injuries Wednesday afternoon when he fell out of a tree at the Sulphur Spring school in Bath-t, where he is a student.

During recess, the boy climbed the tree to a height of 30 feet. He lost his balance and fell, striking his head on the ground and sustaining a probable fracture of the skull.

He was unconscious when removed to City hospital and at noon Thursday his condition was unchanged. An X-ray examination will be made Thursday afternoon to determine the seriousness of his injuries.

BANKER IS JAILED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., — (United Press) — Richard Morro, former cashier of the Corn Exchange Bank, who hoped to "make a killing in oil," was in jail here today charged with a $38,800 shortage.

Morro's embezzlements extended over a period of four years, it is charged.

MURDER CHARGED

Three Held in Probe of New York Fire

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Two men were arrested early today on charges of murder and arson in connection with a Brooklyn fire last Monday in which six persons were burned to death. A third was held as a material witness.

The three, held after an all night's questioning by Fire Marshal Brophy, gave the names of William Ford, a real estate broker; Raymond Anderson and James R. Lynch, an accountant. The murder and arson charges were lodged against Ford and Anderson.

Three women and three men were the victims of the fire which destroyed a two-story frame house in which they lived.

FUNERAL ARRANGED FOR LATE MRS. DORA RUDY

Prayer services will be held Thursday at 7 p. m. for Mrs. Dora Rudy, wife of James Rudy, of 548 S. Pine-st at her late residence. Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of Grace M. E. church will officiate. The body will be accompanied to Zanesville Thursday night where funeral services and burial will take place.

Mrs. Rudy died Tuesday at her home from a complication of diseases.

FIANCEE HELD IN OHIOAN'S DEATH

Companion Shoots Self, Girl Tells Dayton Police

DAYTON—(Associated Press)—Paul Brosier, 24, shot and fatally injured himself shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, according to the story told police by his fiancée, Miss Helen Tracy, 22.

According to Miss Tracy, the police say, she accompanied Brosier on an automobile ride last night. She admitted they had engaged in a quarrel, and said that Brosier had asserted he was going to "quit."

Brosier stopped his automobile in the country, Miss Tracy said. He stepped from the machine and walked to the rear of the car, and a second later, the girl says, she heard a shot almost at her elbow.

Brosier died later at a hospital. Police are holding Miss Tracy for further questioning.

SEEKS REVIEW OF CASE COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS — J. B. Cox, Alliance, convicted in Stark-co and sentenced to the penitentiary for kidnapping Frank A. Holmes, publisher of an Alliance newspaper, in an alleged attempt to extort money, today filed petition in error in the state supreme court, seeking review of his case.

CITY LIVING ON INCOME

Waterworks Swells Income for 1922, Report Shows

Per capita revenues in Lima for city operating purposes amounted to $14.17 in 1922 while the per capita operating expenses of the city for the same year amounted to $13.69, according to figures made public Thursday in the office of the city auditor.

The figures are based on the official population which the city auditor uses in asking for bids, namely 40,800.

These figures show that while every person in the city apparently contributed $14.17 toward running the city, it cost the city only $13.69 for each person. These figures, it was said at the office of the auditor, include the water department which is not only self sustaining but also takes care of its bond issues. Excluding waterworks' revenues there is a deficit.

Figures sent out from Washington show that in Columbus revenues were $44.68 while the per capita expenses amounted to $50.75.

Figures for Youngstown, sent out by Washington officials show that the per capita revenues there were $38.19 while the per capita expenses were $56.24.

City officials here pointed out Thursday that while Lima took in 48 cents more per capita than it spent for city government in 1922 the city of Columbus had a per capita excess of governmental cost over revenue amounting to $6.07 while in Youngstown the per capita excess of municipal cost over revenues amounted to $18.07.

City Manager Bingham said that the government figures for Columbus and Youngstown compared with the auditor's show that Lima has a city commission and officials who are looking carefully after the city's finances. "While the figures show that Columbus and Youngstown are spending more per capita than they are getting from all sources, last year Lima actually spent less per capita than it got from all sources," said Bingham. "Of course we had our water works which is self sustaining but is nevertheless part of the city government work, to help us out."

MRS. LOUISA CARTER, 60, UNIOPOLIS, DIES HERE

Funeral services for Mrs. Louisa Carter, 60, well known Uniopolis resident who died Thursday at the city hospital after an illness of six months, will be held Saturday morning at the Methodist church in Waynesfield. Burial in the church cemetery.

LLOYD GEORGE IS POLITICS A WOMAN'S JOB? HEARD BY 10,000 SURE, IT'S HOUSEKEEPING

Delivers His Chief Message to America at Chicago

GUARD POSTED ABOUT HALL

Reparations Creates Serious Situation, He Says

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — His chief message to America, and delivered from the slight cold and fatigue which kept him idle yesterday, David Lloyd George, war premier of Great Britain, resumed his itinerary today, going to Springfield, Ill., for a visit to the tomb of Abraham Lincoln and an address there.

After his speech last night to an audience of ten thousand in the International Amphitheatre, at the Stock Yards, the British statesman immediately returned to the hotel suite in which he had been all day, and retired. The all-day rest, which caused an abandonment of the program which had been arranged for him, left him apparently but little indication of illness when the little Welshman delivered his address with characteristic force and energy.

AUTO TAMPERED WITH

While Lloyd George was speaking some one drained the water from the radiator of the automobile which had been placed at his disposal. The driver informed police, saying if he had not found the trouble the car would have been halted on the trip to the hotel after traversing a few squares. A guard was placed over the machine.

Policemen stood at every door of the great building. A great crowd stood outside in the rain to hear the former prime minister's speech brought them by voice amplifiers.

MOST SERIOUS FACTOR

German reparations are the most serious factor in Europe's disturbances and America might aid as peacemaker by participating in an expert inquiry into Germany's ability to pay, as proposed by Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, Lloyd George asserted.

France's method of seeking to collect by invasion and occupation means "revolution instead of reparations" and is "driving sixty millions of people into despair," he said.

Europe as a "ragged man standing in front of the plate glass windows of a well stocked store," who cannot buy food and clothes because he cannot pay, was the picture of the old world drawn by the little Welshman.

Columbus City Council Member Thinks, However, Campaign Idea Is Wrong

Plan of Separate Parties for Sexes Also Arouses Her Opposition

(BY PAUL ROBERTS)

Did you ever stop to think that municipal government is nothing more than a good sized housekeeping job in which the woman is as much needed as she is in the home? It is doubtful if many people ever took that attitude towards city government.

But Lima has had a visitor this week who not only takes that attitude but by reason of the suffrage of the people of her town is helping with the city housekeeping work there.

MEET MISS JONES

Meet Miss Olga Jones, member of the city council of Columbus, O., the only woman in the United States to be a member of a city council in a city the size of Columbus. But Miss Jones is something more than a city councilman. She is president of the Columbus Y. W. C. A. and is editor of monthly journal which is published by the Ohio League of Women Voters. Before that she was a newspaper reporter connected with the Columbus Citizen.

She came to Lima as publicity representative for the Ohio Welfare Conference. Miss Jones has been on the city council since the first of the year and comes up for re-election this fall. She feels confident of winning and wants to win because she likes the job of helping keep the municipal household going; she likes housekeeping not only as commonly understood but as a municipal proposition. But she defests campaigning and she thinks our whole campaigning ideas for public office are all wrong. And she never votes at party primaries, because she does not believe that is the best way to get the best candidate for office. So she never registers except for non-partisan primaries. She believes in the primary scheme but not the partisan primary scheme.

Asked if she really thought a councilmanic job was part of woman's real sphere of action in the body politics Miss Jones replied:

"WHY NOT?" SHE ASKED

"Why not? Municipal government is nothing more than a good-sized housekeeping job. You have to have women in the home. That has always been the plea of you men, woman's place is in the home. Well, since municipal government is nothing but a housekeeping job, it seems to me that woman's place is there also. I see no reason why women, now that they vote and in view of the fact that they have always had to pay taxes, should not have something to say about the municipal government. We ought to have more women on our city councils."

Miss Jones says she likes the job but dreads campaigning for a political office.

"I think our system of government which requires campaigning is all wrong," said the councilman from Columbus. "I believe candidates ought to state the principles for which they stand but no candidate should, prior to election, make campaign promises to do this or that or carry out some policy because the candidate does not know what conditions really exist that might make it impossible to make good on election promises."

JUST STATE PRINCIPLES

"The candidates ought to state their principles and let it rest at that, leaving it to the voters to select the persons whose principles they most approve, to be their representatives, whether in council, on the school board or in whatever office they seek. As conditions now are, a man for selfish interest wants an office and he goes out after it with all sorts of promises and the result is we do not always get the best type of office holders in elective offices."

Miss Jones refused to say she would carry her antipathy against the party primary as far as to advocate the abolition of party government in state and national affairs.

"I do think, however," she said, "we should get away from the rigid party systems that have prevailed in the past. We are getting away so that principles mean more than party, and that to my mind is a good sign. I would not advocate anything so revolutionary as the abolition of party government. It must be rather a process of evolution but just what will come to take the place of party government in national affairs I am sure I do not know."

Miss Jones was asked to comment on the recent statement of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont about married women being slaves but she sidestepped the question, declaring that she did not care to discuss the subject.

She does not believe, however, in a separate party for women. "It seems to me sex has no place in government," she said. "Men and women should work together, shoulder to shoulder, and there should be no separate organizations."

WOMAN CONVICTED

MANSFIELD — Mary Thompson, 18, negro, found guilty second degree murder in connection with shooting to death of Charles Grant, negro.

JAIL CURED HIM, ASSERTS BOOTLEGGERS NOW FREE

C. F. Jenkins, convicted bootlegger, Wednesday was released from city jail after serving six weeks in default of payment of a $1,000 fine.

Judge Poling swung the bars open after friends had raised $100. Jenkins was brought into court and released on provision that he obtain a job and report to the court every pay day with his pay envelope.

Jenkins said the jail term completely cured him of breaking the liquor law. He was willing to agree to any provisions to obtain his freedom.

COOLIDGE'S POLICY ON PROHIBITION DEMANDED

BUFFALO, N. Y. — William D. Upshaw, congressman from Georgia, in an address at last evening's session of the annual convention of the state W. C. T. U., urged that President Coolidge be called upon to declare himself publicly for stringent enforcement of the 18th amendment.

Assuming that President Coolidge will redeem the sacred pledge to carry out the Harding policies, the speaker said, "we have a right to ask that he publicly proclaim that he not only personally indorses the spirit of the Harding Denver speech but that he will demand of all federal appointees, like Governor Pinchot demanded of his state appointees, absolute personal abstinence from liquor outlawed by the constitution."

AUTO DRIVEN BY WOMAN STRUCK BY STREET CAR

Automobile driven on S. Main-st Wednesday by Mrs. F. R. Engler was struck by a city street car operated by Joseph Kinkley, the woman told police.

In her complaint Mrs. Engler said the street car ran into her auto and knocked it against Fred Schulerberg's car parked along the curb, damaging both automobiles. No one was injured.

MINISTER MUST ANSWER TO CHARGE OF BEING DRUNK

ATLANTA, Ga. — Rev. Caleb Ridley, known as the imperial kludd of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, has been ordered to appear in police court here today to answer charges of being "drunk while operating an automobile." He was arrested yesterday and after spending several hours in a police station cell was released on bond of $500.

LOUIS, FOUND, IS READY TO CLAIM THAT $40,000

Wilbur A. Louis, of Ramona, Okla., who is wanted by his father to share his $40,000 estate, has been located in Hamilton, according to investigation completed by police.

After leaving Lima, Louis went to Hamilton and now resides at 1219 Hamilton-av., that city. He was told of his father's wish and expressed willingness to return home, it was reported.

20 AUTOS DESTROYED IN FIRE AT YELLOW SPRINGS

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — Fire which for a time threatened the business section in Yellow Springs, a college town south of here, early today caused a loss estimated at $20,000. Ed Carlisle's garage together with twenty automobiles was totally destroyed while the Littleton furniture store building and an unoccupied structure adjoining were damaged.

Red Seal Concert and Operatic

(Tosca—Elocan le stelle Benjamin Gigh) 942 $1.50
(Tosca—O dolci mani (Oh, Gentle Hands) (Puccini) Benjamin Gigh)
Two numbers of intense and thrilling beauty. The first depicting a few moments of sad, sweet love-memory. Then in the second number, a few moments of false hope.
(The Juggler (Moussouri) Piano Solo Sergei Rachmaninoff) 943 1.50
(Etude in F Minor (Debussy) Piano Solo Sergei Rachmaninoff)
In this remarkable piano record, hear Moussouri's "Juggler" throw silver balls in the air, and finish off with a whirl. Then hear the subtle and tremendously difficult Etude of Erno Dohnanyi. Both played with splendid virile power.

Light Vocal Selections

(Honey, Dat's All Olive Kline) 45367 1.00
(Laddie o' Mine Lucy Isabelle Marsh)
Two songs for the heart of woman, however mute and however deeply hidden. "Honey, Dat's All" has wonderfully soft, smooth cadences. "Laddie o' Mine" is in waltz time. Both songs have orchestral interludes.
(My Sweetie Went Away Billy Murray—Ed. Smalley) 19144 .75
(I'm a Lonesome Cry Baby Aileen Stanley)
These three favorite Victor artists are appearing this week as blues artists. Murray and Smalley have a woezy number you already know as a fox trot. Miss Stanley is an excellent cry-baby in her home.

Recitations

(Ten Little Mice and When Father Shakes the Stove Edgar Guest) 45368 1.00
(She Powders Her Nose and The Good Little Boy Edgar Guest)
More of Edgar Guest's familiar little spoken rhymes of everyday life and everyday people. The poet "speaks his own pieces" which are in language and metre of the simplest order.

Dance Records

(Roses of Picardy—Waltz The Troubadours) 19117 .75
(Marchetta—Waltz Green-Arden Orchestra)
"Roses of Picardy" was first made famous in song form by John McCormack. It yields a smooth beautiful dance. "Marchetta" has delicate whistlings and shivery xylophone tremolos. Both ideal for the present fashion of waltzing.
(Last Night on the Back Porch—Fox Trot Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra) 19139 .75
(If I Can't Get the Sweetie I Want—Fox Trot Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra)
Paul Whiteman is back from his European triumphs. He has been crowned "King of the Jazz." In the first number he has a jolly fox trot with vocal refrain. In the second there are new effects. Brilliant, richly-colored, perfect records.
(Wolverine Blues—Fox Trot Benson Orchestra of Chicago) 19140 .75
(House of David Blues—Fox Trot The Virginians)
Two numbers that are sure to please dancers who like unusual effects in their accompaniment.

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless All Rheumatic Pains and Swellings.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

HERE'S TONIC FOR BUSY "BEARS"

Take Noses From Tasks, Visit West, is Forbes Advice

FINANCIERS NOT ALARMED

Fail to Get Discouraged Over World and Home Affairs

(BY B. C. FORBES)

PORTLAND, Ore. — This is being written on a train speeding westward. The best tonic for Wall street bears and for other easterners who have had their noses glued too long at their own little tasks, is a trip through the country, to where the real wealth is being created, to where our fifteen billions of farm products are being raised, to where still more billions of industrial products are being created and fashioned, to where our mines are pouring forth their civilizing metals, to where giant forests are being transformed into home-buildings, and into paper for your favorite morning and evening newspapers, to where happiness does not rise and fall with every twist and turn of the stock ticker, but where life is more stable, more virile, more exhilarating, more wholesome.

Where does the West begin? Here is the best answer I've run across: Where does the West begin?

Out where the handclasp's stronger,

Out where the smile dwells longer,

Out where the sun is brighter,

Out where the snows are whiter,

That's where the West begins.

Out where the skies are bluer,

Out where friendship's truer,

Out where the breeze is fresher,

And neighbors help with the threshold,

To lessen the harvest-time pressure—

That where the West begins.

Out where the world is making and hoes cure the hearts that are aching

Out where there's more living than dying and a man makes friends without trying—
That's where the West begins.

Armed with the newest brand of portable, I've been able to do two days' work every day.

I ran across Thomas W. Lamont, the J. P. Morgan & Co. partner, who is in danger of wrecking himself by overwork. He's not pessimistic. Things may look pretty bad in Europe, yet "I'm not at all discouraged about them," he remarked. He regards things at home as being "in very good shape." He isn't sorry we are not having a boom.

Managing Director Eugene Meyer of the war finance corporation, who is in the middle west trying to help the wheat growers to market their product orderly and advantageously also is optimistic. He is telling the farmers they must help themselves more—or, at least, they must cooperate more effectively with those who are willing to help them. He believes wheat is going higher. That's the sentiment.

Talking about wheat, here's a new one President David B. Forgan, of the National City bank, of Chicago, gave me: "The high price of corn is not a result of legislation, nor is the low price of wheat due to lack of legislation."

This will interest owners of railroad shares and perhaps some of our politicians. I've found, so far, more concern as to whether the railroads will be able to move commodities and fruits, etc, promptly than as to whether rates will be lowered.

Western railroad men are not exuberantly optimistic over present or prospective railroad profits.

Man of 74 Is "Rejuvenated" in 3 Weeks Without Gland Surgery

THOMAS J. GLASCOCK.

Ex tractor Tells of Wonderful Results Obtained in Test of New Scientific Discovery

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well-known Kansas contractor, declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on the test of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me 'young' again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, Dr. W. Wood of New Orleans, past 63 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than for years. I would not take $5,000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain glands and blood vessels, it often brings amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours, according to thousands who have tested it.

"It is wonderful," writes a resident of Hollister, Cal. "In less than 24 hours you can feel it does the work. It makes one feel young as a young man. I am more than happy and glad I tried it." Another Californian says: "The compound is a world's wonder. I feel like I was about 25 and here I am nearly fifty!"

The compound has been tested in all parts of the country and has won the praises of thousands who suffered from nerve weakness, lost or depleted vigor, neurasthenia, premature age, impaired glandular activity and lack of animation and vitality. Its effects seem to be virtually the same on both young and old. Physicians say the principal active ingredient of the compound gives speedy satisfaction in obstinate cases that defy all other treatments. Elderly people pronounce the discovery a real "fountain of youth."

Realizing that thousands of enfeebled, half-alive folk may consider such news "too good to be true," the American distributors, have agreed to supply a double-strength treatment of the discovery on a guaranteed trial basis to everyone in need of such a preparation. If you wish to test the compound under a money-back guarantee, write in strict confidence to the Melton Laboratories 3753 Melton Building, Kansas City, Mo., for a two-dollar treatment of korex compound, mailed in a plain, sealed wrapper. You may enclose two dollars, or simply send your name, without money, and pay two dollars and postage on delivery, as you prefer. In either case, however, if you report within ten days that you are not satisfied, the laboratories will refund the purchase price upon request. These laboratories are nationally known and thoroughly reliable, no nobody need hesitate about accepting their guaranteed offer.—Adv

WESTERN CANADIAN GRAIN WILL BE SOLD THRU POOL

WINNIPEG, Man., — (Associated Press) — Western Canadian farmers will sell much of this year's wheat crop thru wheat pools.

In Saskatchewan it was decided that a board of directors should operate the pool for three months, by which time, it is expected, arrangements will have been made for the election of a board by contract holders. Then the provincial board will turn over to the representatives of the contract holder a completely equipped marketing machine in operation.

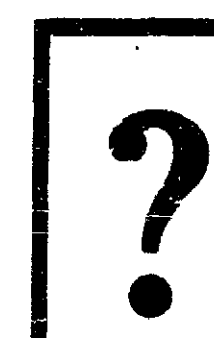

A clause in the Alberta pool contract permitting signatories to withdraw within a specified time if 50 per cent of the acreage was not signed up, was omitted from the Saskatchewan contract.

DALEY IS NAMED CO. G HEAD

Appointed Captain to Succeed Oscar A. Dupes, Resigned

Lieut. William V. Daley, Co. G, O. N. G., has been appointed by Major Frank Hume to be captain of the company to succeed Oscar A. Dupes, recently resigned. The appointment has to be confirmed by the governor and sent on to the militia bureau at Washington, but Maj. Hume is confident it will stand. He said Thursday it likely will become effective the first of next month.

Daley, who lives at 415 Haller-st, entered the national guard in 1908 as a recruit in old Co. C of this city and was made a second lieutenant in 1914. In 1916 he went to the Mexican border with the company, serving there for a year as first lieutenant. He entered the World War service as a member of the 37th division and was overseas a year, taking part in the major offensives in Flanders and the Meuse-Argonne sectors.

"Capt. Daley is regarded by me and other officers as the best drill officer in this section of the state," said Maj. Hume. After the war Capt. Daley helped organize the state artillery regiments and served as Maj. Hume's adjutant.

ASPHALTING OF STREETS STILL IS BEING HELD UP

Before leaving for Oberlin Thursday, City Manager C. A. Bingham announced the Johnson Construction Co. of Findlay had failed to start its asphalt plant this week as it had agreed to and as a result the asphalt paving of all the streets ready for it again has been delayed.

"I have been trying to get in touch with the makers of the Merriam portable plant to see whether the contractors have the plant in stalled in the Kibby-st. location," said Bingham, "but have been unable to get in touch with them."

Bingham said a number of contractors have their streets ready for the asphalt topping but failure of the Findlay company to get on the job has held back all the work. The company was to have set up its new plant here last Monday and start work last Tuesday.

PLAN PROTEST ON MACADAM

Allen-co Commissioners Act on Tip as to Road Material

BIDS RECEIVED BY STATE

Work is on Bellefontaine-rd and Harding Highway

Acting on information received Thursday that contract for construction of Bellefontaine-rd, southeast of Lima, will be awarded to bidders on bituminous macadam, Allen-co commissioners hastened to Columbus to lay protest before H. A. Boulay, state highway director.

Commissioners will protest there are now too many roads in the county built on the material. Tar bound roads, according to A. J. Gray, commissioner, cannot meet the needs of modern traffic, and cost approximately as much as asphalt surfaces.

The state highway department recently selected macadam as the type of material to be used on a mile section of Spencerville-rd, southwest of Lima.

Residents along the road, who must stand a large part of the cost of building, demanded brick, but their desires were ignored.

Bids received by the state highway department Tuesday for the construction of a mile section on the Harding highway east of Delphos and three miles on Bellefontaine-rd southeast of Lima were well within the estimated costs on plans prepared by the state.

A tabulation of the bids was received by the county commissioners Thursday. Lima contractors are among the low bidders.

The bids are as follows:

On the Harding highway, section H, of inter-county highway No. 127, situated east of Delphos.

L. L. Clymer, Bluffton, bituminous macadam, $16,148.24; Kentucky rock asphalt, $17,186.24; George B. Walther, Lima, bituminous macadam, a-b-b, $20,616, bituminous macadam T-1, $18,751.20, Frost Construction Co., Findlay, asphaltic concrete, T-4 A-2-a, $25,370.15, asphaltic concrete, T-11, $25,370.15.

Bellefontaine-rd, inter-county highway No. 130, R. Stone Construction Co., Lima, bituminous macadam, A-1 $53,018.35; macadam A-1-b, $59,092.73; macadam T-1, $54,366.51; asphalt concrete 3-a, $76,723.16; asphalt concrete 2-b, $76,617.87.

Andrews Asphalt Paving Co., Hamilton, asphaltic concrete T-11, $52,521.51; Willite 2-a, $56,771.43; Willite 2-b, $58,660.16; George B. Walther, Lima, asphaltic concrete, T-11, $51,379.38; L. L. Clymer, Bluffton, Kentucky Rock, $60,260.46.

TEN DAYS TO ACT

The state highway department has 10 days in which to accept or reject the bid.

Estimates on the two roads are $25,000 each for macadam and Kentucky rock; $29,550 asphaltic concrete, and $30,600 for Willite, on the Harding Highway. Bellefontaine-rd, macadam $78,000; asphaltic concrete, $96,700; Kentucky rock, $85,000; Willite, $99,000.

The Lynn Construction Co. Paulding was the sole bidder on grading and constructing drainage structures on section C-2, of inter-county highway, 262 in Mercer-co.

HARROD FARM BUREAU HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING WEDNESDAY

Harrod Farm Bureau held a meeting in the high school Wednesday night when an enjoyable program was given.

W. H. Irwin, president of the farmers' institute at Harrod, gave an interesting talk on the program to be given at the institute in February, and at the same time announced a meeting of officers of the institute will be held November 5 at the high school.

Imogene and Lucille Gantz offered a piano duet, a number of tenor solos were sung by Cottrell, principal of the high school.

County Farm Agent H. J. Ridge talked on some of the projects being carried out by the extension department in the state. Mrs. Charles Gosard was named to have charge of home-management demonstrations. Guy LaRue, township chairman, also spoke on farm work.

Next meeting of the bureau will be held Wednesday, November 21.

Questionnaire sent out to all members of the Jersey Poultry Marketing Association asked among other questions, what does it cost to produce a dozen eggs? Replies were received from 368 poultrymen, who said the cost is from 23 to 55 cents.

Ridge said he believed the varying costs are a good argument on the question of keeping poultry records, and said the poultryman who said it cost him 55 cents to produce a dozen eggs had some serious leaks in his business.

Poultry records being kept on 13 flocks in Allen-co reveal that cost of producing a dozen eggs vary from 18 cents to about 40 cents. Ridge contends the biggest job for poultrymen producing eggs at a high cost per dozen will profit most by keeping records and keeping cost to lowest possible figures. He said it would appear that the man producing eggs at 40 cents a dozen could profitably spend some time in keeping records.

One of the reasons for high cost in producing eggs, Ridge says, are existence of worms in flocks. Damage can easily be kept down by doing one of two things. 1—Mixing two pounds of tobacco dust with 100 pounds of mash. 2—Mixing one quart of turpentine with moist mash. About 100 hens could consume this amount in about 15 minutes.

These treatments should be repeated about every two months and will remedy the trouble, Ridge says.

40 BUSINESS PERMITS ISSUED IN FOUR DAYS

During the first four days that the new city license ordinance has been in effect, approximately 450 permits of all kinds have been issued, according to information made public at the office of the city manager.

Besides the number of permits issued a number of applications sent to Police Chief Lanter and Health Officer Poling for investigation and recommendation. City officials estimate about 500 permits and applications have been handled up to Thursday noon.

SPEEDER FINED $15, OTHER TRAFFIC VIOLATORS $2

Lloyd Dacken, 115 Miller-av, Thursday paid a $15 fine for speeding within the city limits at a rate of speed in excess of 25 miles as provided in the traffic ordinance.

Five other traffic violators were in court. Three non-residents of Lima were dismissed with warning and two residents paid fines of $2 each. Violators were:

F. M. Heaton, 754 S. Elizabeth-st, $2; J. Ridenour, 731 N. Union-st, $2; Rudy Shank, Elida; Frank Shank, Elida; G. B. Van Dorn, Columbus.

SEWER PROJECT AT STANDSTILL

Laborers Paid But Material Men Not Taken Care of

NEW CONTRACTOR SOUGHT

Effort Made to Get Second Bidder on Jones Work

No agreement has been reached on the question of paying material men for supplies furnished. Fred R. Jones and he does not know now what sort of an agreement will be reached. H. E. Pendleton, representative of the Royal Indemnity Co. of New York announced Thursday morning in connection with the adjournment of the Jones contract on the intercepting and outfall sewer, on which Jones has defaulted.

Neither has he been able to determine when work on the sewer job will be resumed, Pendleton said. Most of Thursday morning he spent at the Jones office where he claims amounting to $5,500 were being paid to the laborers employed by Jones. "We have sought to get these laborers paid before trying to do anything else in settling the situation," said Pendleton.

SEEK SECOND BIDDER

City officials and Pendleton expect Charles Cannel of Cincinnati who was second low bidder for the contract when Jones was given the award, will reach Lima this week to make an inspection of the job with a view of taking over the Jones contract. Pendleton said he had talked to Cannel on the long distance telephone but had not had his decision as to whether he will consider taking over the job. Cannel was also second low bidder on the big sewer job which J. W. Farley is doing for the city. Both Pendleton and city officials are anxious that Cannel take over the job because he is familiar with the specifications and knows something of conditions here.

An Akron contractor is also being sought by Pendleton, he said, to come here and look over the proposition. "There is absolutely nothing that can be done until we first can find out just how matters stand," said Pendleton Thursday morning.

"It will be several days before we will be able to make any definite announcements either of the resumption of work or the payment of material men for supplies furnished Jones."

MRS. REIS DIES

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Reis, 45 wife of Theodore Reis, 1008 N. Central-av, died at her home Thursday morning. Mrs. Reis was born in Lima, March 1, 1878. Surviving beside the husband are three daughters, Mrs. Mary Bricker, Elizabeth, and Catherine and Margaret at home. Four sons, Theodore, Eugene, Edmund and Paul, at home. Funeral services have not been arranged.

DEEDS. PROPERTY TO STATE

Action Taken By Banker 'Accused of Embezzlement'

DAYTON — (Associated Press) — John J. Schwartz, president of the defunct Miami Bank, has turned over the bulk of his property to the state following his indictment late yesterday for embezzling funds of the bank, it was learned today.

The indictment against Schwartz was returned late yesterday afternoon by the Montgomery county grand jury in a partial report to Judge Robert C. Patterson of common pleas court.

The indictment charges Schwartz with embezzling a total of $104,039.33 of the bank's funds. One count was for $22,547.18 alleged to have been embezzled prior to 1919 and the second for the remainder since that date.

Schwartz was indicted on two counts, because the state banking laws changed in 1919, making embezzlement a more serious crime and more than $22,000 is claimed to have been taken by Schwartz before that time, Prosecuting Attorney Albert H. Scharrer explained. Schwartz will be arraigned Friday, Mr. Scharrer said.

Late yesterday afternoon the indicted banker and his wife deeded their property to H. E. Scott of Columbus, state bank examiner. 'The property transferred to the bank thru Examiner Scott is valued at approximately $44,000.'

Physician Explains Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Practical Advice on How To Help Build Up Great Strength, Energy and Endurance

'Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that vital force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success in every walk of life,' says Dr. E. M. Sauer, well known New England physician. 'It may also transform a man, a well, sweet-tempered, strong, into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body, something so wide apart that the mill can't grind. For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, full of pipe, poor in memory, nervous, irritable and all run down, while at 50 or 60 you are plenty of iron in your blood, you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy.'

'But be sure the iron you take is organic iron—Nuxated Iron—not metallic iron which people usually take. Organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings and is therefore an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen baked apples. It is like taking extracts of beef instead of eating pounds of meat.'

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It quickly helps make rich red blood, revitalizes worn-out exhausted nerves and gives increased strength and energy. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if it does not produce satisfactory results.

POOR VENTILATION AND HEATING A CAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

Save 25% by keeping the house at 62 to 68°

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Most houses are kept too warm. So declares Samuel S. Wyer of the Smithsonian Institution in his pamphlet on the correct use of fuel in the home.

About 25 per cent of the house fuel, he says, is used in raising the room temperature from 60 degrees to 70 degrees. Houses can be kept 5 to 10 degrees lower than is customary—that is, kept at 62 to 68—without any discomfort or any danger to health.

'Keeping the house temperature lower is the easiest way to save fuel,' Mr. Wyer asserts. 'It is fuel saved by doing less work.'

'In most houses, especially when hot air furnaces are used, the room air is too dry for health and comfort. A room with proper humidity of air—not less than 30 per cent—will be more comfortable and healthful at low temperature than one where the moisture content is too low. Therefore, with proper humidity, lower temperatures may be comfortably maintained and less fuel used.'

COLD AIR LEAKS
Prevent leakage of cold air into your house and you save a big part of your coal bill and keep the house cleaner, declares Mr. Wyer. In many of the recent houses he points out, especially those built to sell, the construction is so defective that a reasonably tight room cannot be had. Fuel savings of 15 to 25 per cent are easily possible by making the house tight.

These are ways of making your home more airtight:

In cold climates, on the side of prevailing winds, storm sashes are effective.

Caiking oakum or other caiking material around windows and door frames and weather stripping for doors and windows, whether of wood, felt, rubber or metal, will reduce unnecessary cold air leakage.

Cellars are always desirable, since floors where the wind can get underneath are not only uncomfortable but serious heat wasters.

HEALTH MENACE
Improper heating and ventilation not only causes discomfort and unnecessary expense but is a serious menace to health, Mr. Wyer adds.

'About one-third of all the deaths in this country,' he says, 'are due to respiratory diseases. Pneumonia is one-third more frequent in urban than in rural districts. The seasonal cycle of pneumonia, where house heating is necessary is startling. Of the total annual deaths, about 40 per cent occur during the winter months, 24 per cent during the fall and spring and 10 per cent during the summer. In other words, the highest death rate occurs during the heating season. This is due to lowering of vitality on account of improper heating and ventilation. The tonic action from combustion products—especially carbon monoxide—from fuelless gas-heating stoves is also important.'

COVER PIPES
Water tanks, furnaces and pipes for hot air, water or steam should be adequately insulated. Merely covering with one thickness of asbestos sheets is not enough—in fact, this is worthless. The covering must be half an inch thick to be effective and will then will make a marked saving the fuel and will heat the living room instead of the basement.

Most hot-air furnaces have a sluggish hot-air draft. Placing an electric motor fan in the cold-air intake, according to Mr. Wyer, will increase the volume of air going

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritations and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. — (Adv.)

ONLY THING THAT HELPED HIM

Says Plant Juice Made a Wonderful Change in His Condition

HE GLADLY RECOMMENDS IT

'Your Plant Juice is the only medicine that ever brought me really satisfactory results and I think it is a wonderful preparation,' said Mr. Stephen Lee, of 40 Belleville-av, Newark, N. J., while talking with The Plant Juice Man at that city recently.

MR. STEPHEN LEE
'For a number of years,' Mr. Lee continued, 'I had suffered from stomach trouble but the last two years had been the worst. I became weak, run down and there was hardly anything that I could eat without suffering afterward from gas, terrible bloating and continual belching. I was always constipated and had to keep taking physics and my liver and kidneys were disordered. My system filled up with bile and I would have bilious attacks and had bad pains in my back and had to get up often at night because of my kidneys. I was very nervous and slept poorly. "I'll admit that I was skeptical at first when I heard about your Plant Juice for I had tried so many different medicines without results but finally I was persuaded to try the Plant Juice and I will say that the first bottle was proof enough for me and I continued taking it. I have now taken several bottles and a wonderful change has come over me. My bowels are regular, digestive organs have been toned up and I can eat three meals a day without gas, bloating or any misery afterward. My liver and kidneys work fine, pains have left my back and my nerves are quieted so I sleep soundly. I have new strength and ambition so that I am able to work 12 hours each day and I gladly endorse your Plant Juice.'

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne-sts and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. adv

BUILDING SKYWARD

AN office building 80 stories high will be erected on the site of famous old Madison Square Garden in New York City. The Woolworth building is only 58 stories. From street level to its very tip-top it measures 792 feet. The new building that will eclipse it will rise toward the sky 1100 feet, which is over a fifth of a mile.

This will make it the highest man-made structure in the world, 100 feet taller than the Eiffel Tower in Paris. We wonder what the builders of the Tower of Babel would say of it. They'd probably gape.

The skyscraper, an American creation, is the result of the attempt to escape from high land values and the tribute or toll that has to be paid to them.

Land being too costly, the buildings bulge into the air instead of spreading out over a larger territory.

All this is a result of congestion of population the—swarming instinct that began when men banded together for common defense against wild beasts and savage rival tribes, and which has reached its worst in our generation.

An 80-story building wonderful? Well, it's a wonderful monument to our submission to a frightful economic problem—land ownership.

The airplane probably will relieve the situation by enabling men to live hundreds of miles out in the country, quickly flying to and from work, with cities abandoned except as centers of trading and recreation.

To build an 80-story building solidly and equip it with elevator and other service, requires almost phenomenal skill and intelligence. The best brains today are in industry, not the arts or professions.

YOUR ENDURANCE

ANINE-YEAR-OLD Indian boy got lost in the dense woods near The Pas, Manitoba, Canada. He wandered for 17 days, covering at least 100 miles of wilderness, never seeing a man. Then he was found and rescued by a party of hunters.

During the 17 days, he had to fight nature face-to-face to keep alive, for when he got lost he had neither food nor supplies of any kind—not even a pocket knife.

He made a bow-and-arrow; killed enough game to keep alive. Now, the bow-and-arrow is obsolete with the Indians of this lad's tribe, except as playthings, the high-power rifle having taken its place.

But if he hadn't known how to make a bow-and-arrow outfit, he'd have perished. Knowledge often seems worthless—until emergency. That's what knowledge is really for, after all—emergency. The more education, the better.

Another instance of the human body's powers of endurance: In Canton, O., P. H. Hassan fell into a pool of warm asphalt. He couldn't get out. Struggled until he was exhausted. This was in the evening.

When rescuers found him next morning, the asphalt had hardened into a solid block. Hassan was firmly imbedded, only his head and right arm showing.

They had to chop him out! A terrible experience. But he lives, apparently none the worse for his experience.

The cases of Hassan and the lost Indian boy illustrate how difficult it is to extinguish the life spark. Man fights hard, can endure almost anything, when death threatens him.

OUR CHANGE SHORTAGE

HERBERT SPENCER proved that historic events have a rhythmic motion—travel in cycles. For instance, there's a big war about every 50 years.

Money, it seems, also has cycles. The Philadelphia mint is working at top speed. There's a shortage of pennies, nickels and quarters. The shortage is cyclic. Last one was in the autumn of 1921. No one knows why small change suddenly ran short. Probably means that the public is spending heavily—breaking a lot of bills.

They call him the Right Honorable Lloyd George. It is wrong. Means he is only fairly honorable.

ABE MARTIN

No young couple ought to get married unless they each make $1,000 a year; and then they ought to look around a little first instead of later. Pinky Kerr was in town today for the first time in months as a result of a beer drive.

Without looking. Found parking space on the High, near Union. And demanded a special edition in celebration. Bowed to Officer Good.

Much to be done against Jacken-rim's departure. And he flurried over his first journey by rail. To attend meetings with brother printers in Chicago. Lloyd-George, poor gentlemen, in poor health. And thus unable to address this evening's meeting. Howbeit, Jacken-rim in poor humor, all disappointed. Yet did perform his stint nobly. After which, I tumbled him to the Pennes. First unpacking the wagon. Which was abundantly entangled among Fords.

To the Finrot to claim mine for "The China Doll." Which they do so far too clever to miss. Down the street with a dainty friend who left me to chat a moment with Newell O'Brien. Albert, she often does into the Palace for a Chop Suey. Neatly chopped. And back to my stint. Until the school children passed by. Impeding the stride of the jovial Mr. Fred Gooding.

Home to lunch. With Jacken-rim gone, no tomatoes today. For which his doting family was truly thankful. The seasonal touch a squash pie. Better, methot, than pumpkin. After the meal, conversed by phone. With Miss Sara Laughlin. Down the avenue and few to greet. On the High, spoke with pleasure to Dr. Vail. And exchanged nods with Mrs. Carl Neville.

To the First National to cash a check. Thereby procuring seventy-centimes for my mother, wild spendthrift, to use for debts. Not Mah Jong, it being more expensive. But having her goloshes retinted. A sweet violet.

Sat in the paternal office. There being a great noise as of carpenters in my one-time sanctum. But found it extremely wearying to keep up with the passing show. Outside the plate glass. And my eyes did show me Mr. Altmar, Mr. Bell and Mr. Tom Schoonover, passing in swift succession. Albert singly.

Left the shoppe on foot and in a great confusion. Caused by Mr. Philip Walther's failure to comprehend where so many stamps go. One needs must reply to the queries in the post. With a picture of George Washington. Or the quiet reminder of Mr. Harding. At High and Main. Wondering if the left hand track will still be on the left. When the right is completely dug up. And if gravel would be cheaper "paving." Then just scraping it. To resemble an Iowa mud road. Now that it is no more as it was, what does Mr. Tom McLaughlin do? When Mrs. McLaughlin wants to ride up and down. To view the smart pretties in the windows.

Shunning the starshine. Pored over the intriguing Roger de Coverly papers. Yet yawned early. After a mug of cider, to bed at nine.

A CLOT IN VEIN

In our first talk about veins the other day we were going along smoothly and apparently approaching the really important part, where I should have told the reader how to diagnose and treat phlebitis (inflammation of a vein), when, of course, we suddenly stopped the show so I could do my stuff, the same old stuff—advise folks to consult a competent physician. If this seems unfair let me explain that this is not a medical department. I am not a competent physician by mail or thru the newspaper, I'll freely admit. But I flatter myself that I can tell healthy people thru the newspapers a good many things that are helpful for healthy people to know. All who have something the matter or think they have and don't know just what ails them or what to do about it, I advise to consult their physician.

Phlebitis is a case in point. I maintain without fear of successful contradiction that no healer can determine without personal examination and study of the individual case, whether absolute rest, massage, passive exercise or active exercise would be safe or helpful in the given case or phlebitis at any stage of the process. Therefore we gracefully skip the diagnosis and treatment.

The process of coagulation, congealment or clotting of the blood, in life, within the heart or any blood vessel, is called thrombosis. Some interruption of the blood current at the point of clotting is responsible, say a thickening or narrowing of the vessel from disease or inflammation of the vessel wall (as in some cases of thrombosis in the brain), or a dilation or bulging of the wall of a vein.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

JUST A BOY

He is just a boy with his eyes aglow, Just a boy, and you love him so, And his merry laugh and his roguish way, And those restless feet which turn to play, Are youth's rich treasures swirly spent. You had them once ere your boyhood went, You raced and romped in the self-same way, But you cry, "Keep still!" for you're tired today.

Time was you jeered at an easy chair, And an hour of quiet was hard to bear; Then life was filled with a thousand things, And your arms and legs were strong as springs, And the old folks said as they looked at you, "He races and romps the whole day thru, And he's never tired and he can't sit still, He ought to rest, but he never will."

He is just a boy, and a boy must jump, And a boy must run till his pulses thump, Must swing his arms and kick his heels, And give full vent to the joy he feels; Must rush in the house and bolt his meals, And long for things which run on wheels, And whenever you find him sitting still, It's not that he's tired—it's because he's ill.

THIS LITTLE BABY GIRL

Was Benefited by the Good Her Mother Got from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my little girl was born, and the effect it had was wonderful. This will be the first child I have nursed, as I had to bury my two boys up on the bottle. I was very nervous and worried, tired all the time, and after I read about the Vegetable Compound I tried it and kept on with it. I still continue its use and recommend it to my friends. You may publish these facts as a testimonial for your medicine."—Mrs. Wm. Kling, 189 Plymouth St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after the birth of the child, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

LONDON

By MILTON BRONNER
LONDON — (Special) — There is a restaurant here in which the set meal of the day is preceded by grace and closed with grace. It isn't under church auspices either. It happens to be one of the quaintest eating houses of London. Its habits and customs have come down thru the generations. For 200 years in this restaurant they have served at a low price a one o'clock lunch which is known as a "fish ordinary."

Even today with prices constantly going up, you get this lunch for about 50 cents: a thick, nourishing soup, boiled turbot with lobster sauce, fried sole (one of the kings of English fish) and then the tiny whitebait, beloved of Englishmen. Follows then a good old-fashioned heavy English boiled pudding and delicious cheese and biscuit.

The house has a chairman who presides at the head of the table, ladies out the food, says the two graces and conducts a guessing contest on the height, girth and weight of the huge Stilton cheese from which slices are carved for the guests.

If anybody in the place guesses all three correctly, champagne is served free to the guests!

There is an air of cozy jollity about the whole thing that could be matched no place in the world. Which is why visitors make a bee-line for the place as soon as they get to old London.

George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, is in serious danger of having a grandson-in-law. Dorothy Thompson.

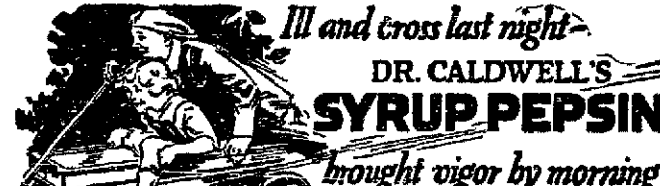

his little granddaughter, is visiting him. "Grandpa," she said this day, "when I grow up I'll marry an Englishman. I'll never even be an American." "Is that so?" said Grandpa. "What kind of a husband will you marry?" "A policeman. I love the blue bonnets with the chin-

A charming yarn has just come down here from the English border line. Queen Mary was visiting aristocratic friends there. She got a negative shake.

"But why not? It is a queen herself." "Can't help it, ma'am. I much and I've got to serve regular customers."

Which reminds me of the queen of the king of Italy, on a hunting trip up in the Alps. He stopped at a little house and had a simple meal of coffee, bread and two boiled eggs. The price for the eggs was exorbitant.

"Are eggs so scarce up there?" demanded the king. "No," snapped the Italian woman, "but kings are!"

How To Keep A Child Healthy

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. The secret is in the food the mother allows the child to eat, and in watching that elimination occurs regularly two or three times a day. Mrs. J. Russell of 19141 Havana Ave., Detroit, Mich., keeps her family of two young children in perfect health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. R. L. Smith of 519 Maple Ave., East Pittsburgh, Pa., says her family of three children have never been sick a day since giving them Syrup Pepsin.

A Substitute for Physics
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and suitable aromatics. The formula is on every package. You will find you do not have to force children to take it, and it is much better for them than castor oil, calomel or coal-tar drugs like phenolphthalein even if covered with sugar. Detroit or chocolate. Syrup Pepsin is mild and gentle in action and your child will have an easy passage without griping or strain. It does not contain narcotics, and you can give it with absolute safety to an infant at the breast.

"Magic" in a Teaspoonful
Every store that sells medicines sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give half a teaspoonful to any ailing baby or child at night when you put it to bed and you will find a happy, laughing youngster in the morning. Take Syrup Pepsin yourself when constipated, and give it to any member of the family young or old, for any ailment due to constipation, such as biliousness, headache, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, bad breath, cankers, fever sores, indigestion, and to break up fevers and colds. Stop the first signs of sniffling and you will have a healthy winter.

"My China Doll" at Faurot

BY CADRE

There is a measure of commendation due Manager Clark of the Faurot, in the matter of conservation in booking attractions calculated to please his patrons. That he is considerate in this respect was proven Wednesday night with "The China Doll." This attraction came to Lima unheralded, save the superlatives of the press agent. It is a new show—a western production, the little star, Barbara Bronell, having still theatrical worlds to conquer. With a degree of certainty there was no pig in a poke; he found out all about it and said "let her come." "She come."

There is a catch phrase in the vocabulary of about every press agent and producer in the country reading, "a wealth of scenery." This can, of course, construe great wealth or the reverse; in this instance let the superlative suffice, for it is perhaps proper to say that no musical extravaganza in a long time fulfilled its promise more truthfully in this respect; its exotic theme gave opportunity which was elaborately accepted. The last scene hung in lace best exemplified the claim. Costumes were in strict keeping, rich and bearing no marks of ill or long usage.

Let us classify the cast as acceptable; the stage adequate and the chorus well drilled which in itself is economy that should suffice; it's saying a whole lot more than can truthfully be said about many musical attractions of the same calibre.

In respect to Charles George, who claims the whole box of tricks from book, lyrics and music to staging, it is certain that he bit off an immense bite, with limitless possibilities. And he rumbled thru the job, even in spots to get his head clear above water; this is true so far as the repartee in "The Spirit of the Poppy Pipe," is concerned. And he made an acceptable shot at music, while not original, certainly catchy and garnished with enough zest to be swallowed by an audience that gave every indication of liking it to the very end; enhanced unceasingly by clashing of cymbal and beating of drums, heavy in spots, delightful to the disciple of jazz or rag, if not to the individual who has forewore anything but the classics. The expression from the feminine part of the audience was to the effect that little Barbara Bronell was cute; looked the part, and that should suffice. She will perhaps never shine at the head of musical comedy, because she lacks power so far as voice is concerned, but she is certainly a marvellous dancer. In summarizing it can truthfully be said that the show as a whole is satisfactory. It pleased a large audience.

SWALLOWED UP

By Mrs. Wilson Woodrow
Illustrated by R.W. Santerfield

WRITTEN BY BRISTOWS—GIVEN BY THE RIDEWAY COMPANY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Leslie Ranger offers a reward of a hundred thousand dollars for the return of his missing daughter. Hope, who receives a communication from him, is a girl of a hundred thousand dollars deposit of bonds. Ranger acts accordingly.

Leslie Ranger, a warm friend of Leslie's and he follows a clue to Hope's whereabouts which is furnished by a girl friend. Hope is held prisoner in Bristow's sanitarium where she makes friends with Dr. Kelsey, another prisoner. They escape in Bristow's car, but the car is wrecked and the two take refuge in an abandoned house. Bristow traces them there and while Kelsey sleeps Hope surrenders to Bristow.

HOW SO ON WITH THE STORY
The storm was lessening in violence, and Hope propped herself up on her pillows, determined to listen for any indications that might betoken Bristow's return.

But Bristow was not conscious of physical fatigue, she was mentally and emotionally exhausted, and before she knew it she slept.

When she awoke the next morning, a heavy gale was blowing from the sea, and the rain was coming down steadily.

Somewhere in this chain of circumstances which bound her, there must be a weak link.

But what was it? She was one, in a fixed place, this room; the others were three, and moved about at will—three acting in concert. Acting in concert! With the repetition of the words, a thrill ran over her from head to foot, and there came a flash of illumination.

It that unity, that close concord could be broken, if they got to arguing and disagreeing among themselves, it would inevitably mean postponement of action.

She looked at the little clock on the dressing-table. It was growing late. Miss Copley would be in at any moment now. She must dress and be ready for her.

She was just putting the finishing touches to her toilet when the nurse entered with the breakfast tray.

As Anita saw Hope standing there fully dressed, she halted so abruptly that the dishes rattled on the tray. She put it down hastily, and looked at her patient with unneeded amazement.

"You're not usually so spry," she said sourly. "What did you fix your hair that way for?"

Hope affected astonishment at the question.

"Why, I always do it this way," Anita scowled, but seemed unable to take her eyes off the girl.

"Eat your breakfast," she said peremptorily, and walking over to the window stood with her back to Hope, looking out on the rain-soaked grounds, biting her raw lip in absorbed cogitation.

Finally she turned, as Hope was finishing her coffee.

"I'll get your pencil and paper for you."

Hope objected, pushing out her hands pettishly.

"I never want to see them again,"

"I never want to see them again,"

not been able to obliterate the traces of worry and fatigue. He looked even more worn and harassed than Miss Copley.

As she saw this, Hope's eyes brightened, her color bloomed.

"Good morning, Doctor," she said blithely.

"Good morning, Doctor," she said blithely.

"Good morning," He stood gazing at her from under his heavy brows; the searching, comprehensive glance of the born diagnostician.

"I was tired last night, but I feel as fresh as paint this morning," Her tone was buoyant. "I remember things."

His remarkable eyes pierced her thru and thru, an inquisition; but she bore it unflinchingly.

At last he forced a smile.

"That's good," he said with an effort at heartiness. "What do you remember?"

"I remember going away with that crazy man. He told me not to go in to supper, to stay on the porch and wait for him. Then he took my arm, and ran down the steps and jumped into the car. I took the chauffeur's place. I don't know why. I didn't know I could drive. But I can," she said triumphantly. "It's as easy as that!"

She turned her hand over. "And I knew all the roads as well as if I'd been over them hundreds of times."

He rubbed his chin, still studying her.

"Did any one stop you?" he asked so suddenly, that if she had not been on guard it might have confused her.

"Yes; two men. They ran their car in front of us, and one of them came back. The crazy man told me to say, I was Miss Copley. I am, too; Verna Copley. But the strange man thought I was Anita and gave me a package. The crazy man wouldn't let me keep it. He put it in his pocket, and told me to drive to the shore."

"Oh, it was fun! He said there were people after us, and I mustn't let them get us. And then we heard some one coming, and he told me to turn off, and we ran into a tree and were thrown out. I thought he was dead. But a man on a motor-cycle came along, and pulled him from under the car, and said he would go for a doctor."

"And what happened then?"

"The crazy man opened his eyes, and got up. He said we must run to the shore, and find a boat. But I knew the woods and the house, and I wanted to stay where we were. He wouldn't let me. He was rough and pulled me along. I'm afraid of the water at night, and I screamed. Then he swore, and let me go."

"You say, you knew that old house?" Bristow's tone was casual, but very winning.

"Yes. I wanted to go in it. But he wouldn't. He called it a trap."

"Didn't you live there once?"

"I don't know," Her forehead creased, as if the effort to recollect were painfully difficult. "But, positively, I do know that house some way. There's a big attic full of boxes. It was nice to play there. Still I was glad to get home. Only," lowering her voice, and looking apprehensively toward the door, "she was cross. I don't like her. I hate her. Why don't you send her away, and let me stay with you?"

She came nearer, coaxing, entreating, her lips adorably pouted.

"You're so wise and kind. I like to be with you. I like to look at you. You wear such beautiful clothes."

She stroked the sleeve of his coat, as if its touch gave her a luxurious pleasure.

"And your neckties. That's the loveliest black pearl I ever saw."

She touched it with her finger, and bent closer, so near him that her hair brushed his cheek.

A glorious creature! Bristow's breath came a little faster. Young, lovely, rich. How could he have been so blind, so obtuse to the possibilities of the situation?

And at this moment, Anita Copley chose to return to the room.

She stood inside the door, glancing from one to the other, varying emotions depicted on her face. Surprise. Suspicion deepening to comprehension. And then jealous anger.

Hope laughed gaily and clung to his hand. He smilingly released himself and left, without another glance at Anita.

"You're in love with him," The girl's face was elusively acute, as she taunted her jailer. She knew that she was going beyond the danger-line, but she took that risk. The further she could goad Anita the better. "And he doesn't care that for you?" She brought her fingers together and then opened them, blowing off an imaginary speck. "He likes me! He likes me!"

She made an unexpected rush, and propelled Anita toward the mirror.

"Look at us! Look," her chin on the woman's shoulder.

Anita stood trance-like for an instant, enthralled by the two faces so like and yet so different, with all the terrible difference in Hope's favor.

And then before the younger woman could realize her purpose, she whirled. There was one stinging blow on the cheek that sent Hope staggering. Others, a rain of them, followed.

"Now, you crazy loon!" in a gasping, threadlike snarl. "Keep still, or I'll give you worse. Keep still, I tell you," as Hope crouched and whimpered. "I'll see about this! I'll see about this." She rushed from the room.

Hope caressed her bruised cheek, and smiled.

CHAPTER XXIV

Hobo Bill sat in what he called the "parlor" of his suite in the sanitarium, an old man in a worn velvet dressing-gown.

At twenty minutes after three, Bristow and Anita Copley came in together.

An ill-suppressed hysteria showed under Anita's efforts at composure. Higgins peered at them thru his heavy-lensed spectacles.

"You're late," he croaked coldly. To his valet he gave a curt order: "Get out."

"Sorry," Bristow said, "but I had to wait for that potter, Morton. He very seldom leaves the place, but today of all days he chose to depart on some errand of his own, and staid over two hours. The time passed excitingly, tho. Anita," contemptuously, "saw fit to become temperamental."

"Humph!" the old man grunted uncouthly. "You damn fools don't understand that this is no time for child's play. We're in a bad fix, I tell you. A damn bad fix."

"I don't see it," Bristow said coolly. "We've got the girl, and Kelsey's very happily drowned."

"And our hundred thousand in Liberty bonds along with him."

"We'll get that back," Bristow spoke with consistent confidence. "The moment the body's recovered, I'll hear of it and be on the spot. Don't think that any life guard or clam digger can get away with that envelope. If I can't manage to lay hands on it myself, I'll see that it's turned over to the Coroner. I've already informed him, that Kelsey robbed my safe when he made the attack on me."

NOTE BY SPECIAL MESSENGER FROM WALTER BURKE TO MRS. RUTH HILLINGTON

MY DEAR RUTH:

I know when I am beaten. The moment I saw Leslie Prescott enter the restaurant I knew it was all over with me.

Ruth, I have loved you. I do love you and honestly if I had not thought I could bring a little happiness into your saddened eyes, I would not have proposed the trip abroad. But I know now that you never could have been happy under the circumstances.

Your fantastical ancestry and education would have made Regret smother any Joy that you might snatch surreptitiously from convention.

I am going to go abroad tomorrow. It was selfish of me to want you before you could come to me in honor. Go back with Leslie, Ruth, and free yourself from that cur who never appreciated you.

In a year I will come for you. It is very probable that you will hear from me from time to time, but whether you hear or not, remember that perhaps the one decent thing in all my life has been my love for you. Enclosed please find the tickets. The train goes at eight o'clock sharp.

I'm glad you are a friend of Leslie's, Ruth. She is a nice little woman, I wonder if you noticed there in the restaurant that she looked troubled in her own account? I hope Jack isn't mixed up with that scoundrel husband of yours.

Au revoir, my dear. It can never be goodby between you and me. I dare not come back even to let you wish me God-speed because, Ruth dear, I love you. WALTER.

Cable From Leslie Prescott to Alice Hamilton

Think I see light ahead. Leslie on visit to her parents. Will surely bring back the money. I need not tell you that if I get out of this, never again for me, dear boy, never again for me. JACK.

Telegram From Sydney Carion to John Alden Prescott

Congratulations. Call me up tomorrow night. Think I will have some interesting news for you. CYD.

HORVATH EASILY WINS DECISION OVER JAKE GROSS

BY WILL HAGAN
Lima News Staff

Johnny Horvath, Mansfield, easily won a newspaper decision over Jake Gross, Lima, in a 12 round main bout Wednesday night at the O. N. C. arena, Marion.

Gross took the third and fourth rounds. The first was a draw. Horvath took the others by a wide margin.

Gong saved Gross in the seventh round. Horvath had him groggy against the ropes from rapid fire rights and lefts to the stomach.

Gross fought a defensive fight after the fourth round. He hung on continuously while the crowd hissed his antics in staying the limit.

Horvath and Gross stood toe to toe in the first four rounds and exchanged punches. In the second round Gross went to the canvas. He was pulled down in a clinch and not knocked down. He took a count of nine and jumped up and carried the fight to Horvath for the remainder of the round.

Gross showed the only offensive strength in the third round when he floored Horvath with a right cross to the jaw. Horvath jumped to his feet without a count.

Gross was hopelessly outclassed after the sixth round. He clinched continuously, shoved his opponent and stalled at every available chance.

His blows, the few that he did land, lacked steam, looking as if he were not properly conditioned for the grilling slugfest with Horvath, whose slugging ability and rushing tactics overcomes his lack of ring technique.

As A Matter of Fact

BY HARRY BRADBURY
Sports Editor.

New York sport writers give it as a fact that the pitching staff of the Giants will immediately receive the attention of the Giant management, meaning that McGraw is up in the air because of the dismal showing it made against the hard hitting Yanks in the world's series just finished. That's all right; no one with a faculty of knowing just what pitchers are, ever accused the Napoleon of the national pastime, with possessing anything more than they proved, even if he did spend a huge fortune in stringing them from other National league teams, or culling them from the class AA teams at some $75,000 per. It will even be conceded in all fairness that he has a perfect right to buy Lefty Groves, of the Baltimore Orioles, providing Jack Dunn sees fit to let him go. But if organized ball is to continue at top speed in the hearts of de-

WRECKING TEAMS NOT GOOD BUSINESS

I had the pleasure of a visit from Billy Southworth, the captain of the Boston Braves not long ago. It was during the world's series and I congratulated him on his team winning that day from the Giants. He didn't understand me. I told him that I referred to the fact that about all the stars that Boston had developed in the past few years had been sold to one or the other of the New York clubs. I asked him if he thought it good policy to rob a team of its best players to help another win the pen-

IT TAKES MONEY TO RUN A BALL TEAM

"Let every National league team develop its own strength without robbing another which is detrimental to good sport and even to better business principles," said Southworth. It would work no hardship on a player, and would keep the morale of every league team to a higher standard. A player would know his future, for it is a fact that surroundings often lead to congeniality and that is the basis for a ball player's best efforts. I thought that was a very good suggestion, and since then the Jimmy O'Connell humor is rife. This young California $75,000 beauty, is dissatisfied with McGraw and the Giants; didn't come up to expectations, not pertaining else.

BOTH NEW YORK TEAMS ARE BOUGHT

The remaining whole of Americans interested in base ball, outside of New York city, have openly expressed themselves disgusted with the manner of getting a New York team together. Always buying stars, never manufacturing them; buying pennants, not winning them. It might be considered fair if all other major league teams were following the practice, but they don't; they can't; they haven't the money. As a matter of fact it is absolute discrimination, making suckers out of all other teams and the one with the fattest pocketbook winning the pennant. And from a sport point of view, dead as a Dead Sea apple. Case of commercialism, predominating sport; contrary to the spirit of sport, to be classed as an attraction just as Zeigfeld's Follies, or Cohan's "So This Is London." Babe Ruth an attraction, not a ball player; people going to see him knock the ball over the fence, not to see a ball game.

UNDESIRABLE TO SPORTING CALENDAR

Jack Kearns can truthfully be classed as the greatest manager of prize fighters that ever lived, but Jack Kearns is not a sport. He's in the game for money, not for sport, and why shouldn't McGraw be classed in the same category. He doesn't develop players, handles nothing but the finished article, who couldn't be a finished article, with The National City bank behind him. In choosing from this standpoint why shouldn't John Rockefeller beat him to death, as manager of the Giants. He could

Rickey Makes Guess For 1924

ST. LOUIS — (Associated Press) — It is "no idle jest" that the St. Louis Cardinals may win the National League pennant next year, according to Branch Rickey, manager of the team.

In making the prediction, Manager Rickey declared that he would direct a team of championship caliber in 1924 and expected to be in the fight from the beginning.

Sports writers recall that Rickey is conservative in making predictions, when at the end of the 1922 season, the Cardinal manager asserted the best he could hope to accomplish in 1923 was the building up of his team in preparation for the 1924 season.

When Rickey made the prediction, he said the trading of players by clubs in the same league after the season had started should be stopped. He asserted that the fixing of earlier dates after which players may not be traded was a confession of fault.

PAPYRUS WORKS FAST

(By United Press)
Papyrus went the mile in 1:39 2-5 and the mile and one-eighth in 1:51 2-5, hard held. Donoghue was riding as easy in the saddle as the for a canter. The crowd was enthusiastic over the showing. Up went Papyrus took a couple of points. Every one crowded around to see what Jarvis and Donoghue, all stuns, had to say.

EL VERSO SAN FELICE OR AMERICAN STAG

AS REGARDS LETTER H

In the matter of crashing the old apple, as the science of hitting is known in baseball circles, the H's have it this year. decidedly and unanimously.

In the National League the leader is Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals. Hornsby led with .385 and was followed by Wheat of the Brooklyn with .375. In the American League the honor went to Harry Heilmann of the Detroit. The Tiger outfielder hit .402 for the season just ended, and was trailed by Ruth the Babe with .394.

Incidentally both Hornsby and Heilmann led their respective leagues at the bat two years ago. It was the first time in years that right-handers had carried off the hitting honors in the majors.

The fact that the two were able to repeat again this year is further proof that a left-handed swing is not essential to hitting success.

Odds Are Less As Time Nears For Race

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—New Yorkers were holding their sporting breath until the barrier springs two days hence at Belmont Park when Zev, the American horse, and Papyrus, the English Derby winner, plunge off in the first big international match horse race in history.

His last long workout over, yesterday, Zev was simply to be kept in the top form that Sam Hildreth, trainer for Harry E. Sinclair, believes the American thoroughbred to be enjoying, but Papyrus was to take a time trial today with Steve Donoghue, the English jockey who piloted him in the Derby and who came especially to ride him.

Hildreth was much annoyed by divergent reports about Zev's workout yesterday when the horse was "clocked" a mile and a half in 2:30 2-5, admittedly slow time for his rating. The trainer said the horse was worked at a mile, that L. Fator, who had the mount, carried out his instructions to pull him up at the mile and that the next two quarters were required to get him in.

Zev made the mile and a quarter in 2:09 flat and the mile in 1:39 3-4, good time, fought for his head all the way, and was breathing easily when pulled up. Despite this the odds shortened, some wagers being laid against him and others at reduced odds.

Limbering Up Now With Joint-Ease

After the game or practice Joint-Ease takes the kinks, lameness and soreness out of your aching muscles and joints so quickly that you'll want to start all over again in a few hours.

It's great stuff—speedy and sure, and many stars are wise to it. Just two minutes' rubbing and this great, stainless Joint-Ease soaks right in through skin and flesh right to the ligaments and tendons and bones—exactly where the soreness is.

Ask for a tube of Joint-Ease and keep limbered up, as thousands of other sports players do. Costs but a trifle at Argonne Drug Store, Green's Public Drug Store, Hunter's Drug Store—adv.

Coach Wilce Likely to Change Lineup

CHICAGO — Big Ten football teams held their last hard drills today for games Saturday in which eight teams will face Western Conference opponents and two will meet non-conference eleven. Radical changes in lineups and playing tactics were anticipated in a number of camps. Friday the teams will taper off with light drills and scrimmages or will be on their way to the scenes of Saturday's contests.

Ohio State which meets Michigan at Ann Arbor was a cause of worry to Coach Wilce after the freshmen carried the ball across the varsity goal line in eight plays from the 40 yard line. The yearlings were using Michigan plays and the Michigan aerial attack with which the Buckeyes believe the Wolverines will try. At the close of the practice Coach Wilce indicated that a change in the lineup will be made.

Illinois already has had its last hard practice for the Iowa game. Northwestern is bending all its efforts toward a victory over Chicago.

Indiana and Wisconsin, teams very evenly matched and both in good condition, will meet at Indianapolis in the other conference games of the day.

In Squared Circle

NEW YORK — Another contender for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight crown may arise from a series of elimination tests expected to take place during the winter season. The first important encounter having a bearing on the heavyweight ring situation is likely to be between Floyd Johnson of Iowa and Jack Renault, the Canadian champion. Johnson has been improving steadily since his knockout at the hands of Jess Willard last May, while Renault has added several victims to his list.

The winner of a Johnson-Renault bout probably would be matched with the victor of the proposed contest between Georges Carpentier of France and Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, who went 15 rounds with Dempsey at Shelby, Mont., last July Fourth. Carpentier has accepted terms offered him by Tex Rickard but Gibbons has not yet come to a definite agreement with the promoter.

Dempsey already has a return match with Luis Angel Firpo on his 1924 program and may also face Harry Willis, Negro challenger who has been on the champion's trail for more than a year.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Now that bayonet rule has been established in Berlin we can rest assured the folks over there will have a type of government they can understand.

New York man is bankrupt in love and in pocketbook. Generally it is the man whose love affairs are not bankrupt that feels the need of a receiver.

Carmi Thompson's hat is again in the ring. We wonder whether or not it is the same fedora that was so badly trampled a year ago.

W. A. B. wants to know if a man who buys a worthless flivver can be said to have been stung by a rattler.

Big Break in Eggs warns the market reporter. If any of them are bad it will make a big stink, we are afraid.

Floods don't seem to worry Oklahoma very much. They have had about everything else and lived thru it.

Now that an Athens woman has been arrested for non-support we presume woman can claim that they now have their rights.

Lima husbands who desire to take the proper care of their families should read this advertisement in a Kansas newspaper. "Fire destroyed another Salina home. Happened while husband was away."

caused from soot in the chimney. Why take a chance, think of your wife and babies at home. Have them inspected, repaired and cleaned.

The man who used to answer the question "what do you drink?" by saying "anything" is not with us any more. He's dead.

Here's my home, just a better, not so noisy, I'll go home.

The House of Harmony

A hotel is a place to live—to work, or rest or play, as you like. Something more than physical needs must be satisfied. Even something more than service is expected. That something is the kindly attitude of an organization of loyal employees, every one conscious of the ideals and traditions of the house and always willing to give his best in thoughtful and courteous attention. The Hollenden is the house of harmony.
